

JOHN LYON'S CHARITY

Sarbani Jollyman

Sarbani has worked as a general practitioner in Hertfordshire since 1998. She has always been committed to the training and supervision of medical students and junior doctors and more recently, has been involved in the advanced training of clinical pharmacists, paramedics and nurse practitioners. For 10 years, she was a Governor at the John Lyon School, with lead responsibility for Safeguarding and Child Protection and sat on the Education Committee. Sarbani is an experienced GP expert witness in the clinical negligence and is involved in the mentoring and training of clinical experts. She continues to practice as a GP in St Albans.
