

JOHN LYON'S CHARITY

Keith Morgan

Keith is the Associate Director of Black Health Equity at Prostate Cancer UK. He has over 10 years' experience of working in the public and third sector, with an emphasis on public policy, strategy development and system change.

Keith has led a number of place-based youth infrastructure and capacity building charities. He has built a strong track-record in community engagement, grant giving, and programme development working closely with local government and the GLA. Starting his career as a youth worker, Keith has a strong affinity with the youth sector and was previously the CEO for the Young Camden Foundation.
