

JOHN LYON'S CHARITY

Sally-Anne Huang

Sally-Anne Huang was educated at Bolton School before reading Classics and English at Lady Margaret Hall, Oxford. She also has an MSc in Educational Leadership and Management and a Master's degree in Children's Literature. Since 2020, Sally-Anne has been High Master of St Paul's School and has governance experience in both boarding and prep schools. Previously, she was Headmistress of James Allen's Girls' School and Kent College, Pembury, where she was also chair of the Methodist Independent Schools heads' group for two years.

Sally-Anne was an elected officer of the Headmasters' and Headmistresses' Conference (HMC) from 2018–22 and is a member of their board; she was Chair during the academic year 2020/21. She is a trustee of the International Boys' Schools Coalition. Her previous appointments have included Housemistress at Sevenoaks School, where she taught the International Baccalaureate, and Deputy Head at Roedean School. Her professional interests include the experience of female leaders in all-boys' schools, the importance of character education, and the power of performing arts and sport in the pupil experience. Married to Alexis, Sally-Anne has two adult sons and two dogs. Her hobbies include all forms of theatre, playing the saxophone and watching rugby.